STANDARDS MEET HIP-HOP

Flocabulary brings standards-based content to life through hip-hop. Here's how:

- Rhythm and rhyme are powerful mnemonic devices and improve memorization and retention
- Music is a transformative teaching tool that improves student engagement
- Hip-hop is the world's most popular genre and makes learning accessible and relevant to students of diverse backgrounds.

FLOCABULARY CONTENT AREAS

Each of Flocabulary's 900+ units contain an original music video and a flexible instructional sequence. Whether in ELA, math, science or social studies, each unit teaches academic skills and standards while placing an emphasis on vocabulary and literacy.

Core Subject Areas

Teachers and staff can search for content by subject, keyword or standard. The standards alignment tool enables educators to know which units will support their lesson plan as well as highlight units that may be helpful to review or assign to students as pre-work.

Vocabulary

The Word Up Project is an award-winning vocabulary and reading program that teaches Tier-II vocabulary to increase achievement on state reading tests and across the curriculum. There are 14 units per grade for grades K-8 and "Word Up" is ideal for ELA, reading blocks, or during small group interventions.

Current Events

Engage students with the world around them through a weekly news segment. The Week in Rap includes weekly vocabulary and questions to jump-start conversation in the classroom. Week in Rap Junior is available for grades 3-5.

Social Emotional Learning

Teaching students skills beyond what they can derive from a textbook is key to a student's success in school and in life. The Life Skills section includes over 25 units covering topics ranging from building empathy and managing worry, to public speaking, conflict resolution and financial literacy.
